

What I am Looking For in Outcome Essay 3

Below you will find the four questions being asked of you for Learning Outcome Essay 3. In addition to the information provided below I am expecting students to follow the Outcome essay example I have provided. This is especially true concerning the first section of your paper.

In all of the following, when appropriate, use academic terminology in your responses. Don't just write off the top of your head using laymen vocabulary when there are specific academic terms to describe or define a concept or idea you are attempting to express.

Choose three to respond to:

- Discuss how have you presented compelling speeches effectively to inform, persuade, and/or entertain a specified audience?
 - Here I need you to describe how you presented a speech for the purpose of informing, persuading or entertaining to a specific audience. This will require you to address the concepts of audience analysis and presentation skills. This would also include the various elements of the appropriate speech outline for the specific type of speech.

- Describe how you have written clear, concise messages tailored to an audience and desired outcomes.
 - With this enquiry I need you to address the concepts of audience analysis and organizing your thoughts in terms of a written presentation. Again the key here is a message tailored to a specific audience and desired outcome. You need to describe what you did in terms of your audience analysis and organizing your thoughts and their impact on the message construction. Provide details as to how you went about accomplishing the analysis and organization of your thoughts with the audience and desired outcome always in view.

- Describe how you have demonstrated an ability to competently communicate in a variety of writing styles including strategic, journalistic and academic.
 - Here you need to describe these different types of writing. What are they? What are their most notable characteristics, or goals? What makes them different from each other, and how you have used them competently?

- Discuss how you have integrated a range of methods and supporting media to enhance performance skills.
 - For this question you need to discuss how you have integrated different presentation methods and supporting media to enhance your performance skills. What did (or would) you do in terms of integrating different presentation methods and supporting media for the purpose of enhancing your performance skills.

In addition to the above information, I strongly recommend you review the grading rubric for the general overview of how your paper will be graded.
